Dear _____

I'm writing you and others because a crisis faces all who served our nation and currently receive VA benefits based on service-connected conditions.

Do not think that a grateful nation will always remember what we sacrificed. Do not think that your benefits are safe.

During the past century, the American public has forgotten the sacrifices of our military following every war. But with Iraq and Afghanistan, it has happened while our troops were still at war.

If you doubt it, go out and look for the yellow ribbons, the "Support Our Troops!" bumper stickers, the American flag decals. Less than a decade ago, they were everywhere. Now they're all faded, just like America's memory of your heroism.

When we're not in America's thoughts, our benefits — your benefits — are in jeopardy.

That's why DAV (Disabled American Veterans) ensures that veterans' voices are heard. After all, it's critical that our country not forget the sacrifices you made in our defense.

And it's why your help is urgently needed now, so that we can continue to defend your rights just as you once defended our freedom.

Through membership in DAV, you make your voice count on the issues that affect your life, your family, and your friends from the armed forces.

Please join us today.
